Currency risk

The Group companies perform their operations with active exchange with foreign suppliers and clients and therefore, they are exposed to currency risk.

The Group through its subsidiaries in Belarus and Ukraine conducts business operations in these countries and respectively has a substantial exposition in Belarusian Ruble (BYR) and Ukrainian Hryvnia (UAH). The currency risk is related to the adverse floating of the exchange rate of these currencies against BGN in future business transactions as to the recognized assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currency and as to the net investments in foreign companies. The rest of the companies abroad conduct sales mainly to the local markets, which leads to currency risk to their currencies - Serbian Dinar (RSD), Polish Zloty (PLN), Lithuanian Litas (LTL).

There is a currency risk control system implemented throughout the whole Group for the planning of imports, the sale in foreign currencies, as well as procedures for daily monitoring of USD exchange rate movements and control over pending payments. The exposure of the subsidiaries in Bulgaria to currency risk is insignificant, because almost all sales are conducted on the local market in BGN. The import of goods is entirely performed in EUR. The loans in foreign currencies are denominated mainly in EUR.

Credit risk

Credit risk is the risk that any of the Group's clients will fail to discharge in full and within the normally envisaged terms the amounts due under trade receivables. The latter are presented in the statement of financial position at net value after deduction of impairments related to doubtful and bad debts. Such impairments are made where and when events have existed identifying loss due to uncollectability as per the previous experience.

The Group has developed policy and procedures to assess the creditworthiness of its counterparts and to assign credit rating and credit limits to clients by group.

The financial resources of the Group as well as the settlement operations are concentrated in different first-class banks. When distributing the cash flows among them, the management of the parent company and the subsidiaries take into consideration a variety of factors, as the amount of capital, reliability, liquidity, the credit potential and rating of the bank etc.

Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk is an adverse situation where the Group encounters difficulty in unconditionally meeting its obligations within their maturity, including in the case of hyperinflation and recalculation of trade estimates for companies operating in such environment.

The Group generates and maintains a significant volume of liquid funds. An internal source of liquid funds for the Group is the main economic activity of its companies generating sufficient operational flows. Banks and other permanent counterparts represent external sources of funding. Another significant source of risk is the net position in BYR and the hyperinflation on that market.

Risk of interest-bearing cash flows

Interest-bearing assets are presented in the structure of Group's assets as cash, bank deposits and fixed interest rate loans granted. On the other hand, the Group's borrowings in the form of long-term and short-term loans are usually with a floating interest rate. This circumstance makes the cash flows of the Group partially dependent on interest risk. This risk is covered in two ways:

- (a) optimization of sources and structure of credit resources for achieving relatively lower price of attracted funds; and
- (b) combined structure of interest rates on loans comprising two components – a fixed one and a variable one, the correlation between which, as well as their absolute value, can be achieved and maintained in a proportion favorable for the Group companies. The fixed component has a relatively low absolute value and sufficiently high relative share in the total interest rate. This circumstance eliminates the probability of a significant change in interest rate levels in case of variable component updating. Thus the probability for an unfavorable change of cash flows is reduced to a minimum.

The management of the Group companies together with that of the parent company currently monitor and analyze the exposure of the respective company to the changes in interest levels. Various scenarios are simulated taking into consideration refinancing, renewal of existing positions, and alternative financing. Based on these scenarios, the impact of a defined interest rate shift, expressed in points or %age, on the financial result and equity is calculated. For each simulation, the same assumption for interest rate shift is used for all major currencies. The calculations are made for major interest-bearing positions.
